

Audition Monologues

Note: Performers auditioning for a role must come prepared with a short monologue from the selections below.

Sides for cold reading auditions will be provided to those auditioning for principal or supporting roles.

Donna: Cool with it? You don't know my daughter. This would be like a bombshell. And I don't know that. I don't know where they are. I don't know why they are here. And I have brought this all on myself because I was stupid and reckless!

Sophie: Call... call off the wedding? What?! No! No. no that's what you want! Yes God! You Just.... You have no idea. You never had a wedding. You never did the marriage-and-babies thing. You just did the baby thing. Well good for you. Because i.... god I love Sky, and I want to be with him! And I don't want my children growing up, not knowing who their father is cuss... It's just crap!

Sam: I see that, but she's so young. I mean does she know what she really want? You see, I think part of her just wants to let you know that she isn't going to leave you alone here, on your own. Donna look, I have two grown children I know something about letting go.

Bill & Harry: Is this an interview? Alright, well for me, Donna's invitation brought back many happy memories...(Spotting the guitar hanging on the wall) Bloody Norah! I know this guitar! (Indicating a carving) HB-'Head-Banger', that's what they used to call me in those days-and DS-Donna Sheridan - I bought this for her! Ten quid and my Johnny Rotten tee-shirt...so now who says I'm an unadventurous old stick-in-the mud? A big house, a fast car and a season ticket to Chelsea Football Club isn't enough for some people, is it? They want The Great White Hunter, too. Well, I can do spontaneity. That's why I'm here. Donna knew my wild side.

Sky: Hold on hold on, you invited these guys and you didn't tell me? Sophie? Is that what this whole big white wedding is about? You finding your dad? I wanted to take a boat to the mainland with a couple of witnesses. And you insisted on this sodding circus so you can play Happy Families.

Tanya & Rosie: Hey Listen Donna, Donna. I know, I know you're going to make a fortune with web's... with web's... I know you're gonna make a fortune with Sky's website, but... are you going to be ok until then? No seriously, Donna. Do you need a loan?
